

National Day for Truth and Reconciliation & Orange Shirt Day Virtual Session

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 2021

10:30 A.M. - 11 A.M.

Jason Seright, Dean, Indigenous Education & Engagement, Humber College

George Bragues, Interim Vice-Provost, UofGH

David Danto, Program Head, Psychology, UofGH

Learn More & Support Reconciliation Efforts:

Learn more through the Government of Canada's National Day for Truth and Reconciliation page: canada.ca/en/canadian-heritage/campaigns/national-day-truth-reconciliation.html

Visit Humber's Indigenous Education and Engagement website: humber.ca/indigenous

Visit the University of Guelph's Indigenous Initiatives webpage: indigenous.uoguelph.ca

Read CBC's article: 'Flag to honour residential school survivors unveiled by National Centre for Truth and Reconciliation': cbc.ca/news/indigenous/residential-school-survivors-flag-nctr-1.6187400

Learn more about True North Aid supporting Indigenous Communities in Canada: truenorthaid.ca/first-nations-donation.html/

Watch the Canadian Psychology Association's webinar 'How can the field of Psychology in Canada honour this day and the Survivors, their families, and communities?'
<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=61SZ1vmSYs8>

Share your Orange Shirt Day photo on social media and/or upload it to the Orange Shirt Day website: humber.ca/indigenous/orange-shirt-day

Remember to tag @HumberIndig and @GuelphHumberUni.

UNIVERSITY OF GUELPH
HUMBER