

Video/Audio Transcript

Video Title: News in Review - Spring 2017

Date: April 18, 2017

Running Time: 1:51

- 0:00 [A logo on a white background reads: "University of Guelph Humber", with text, "News in Review" displayed to the right of the logo.]
- 0:05 [Writing fades. An image of Julie Pehar, wearing a light grey, lace up, V-neck sweater appears on the left side of the screen, with text coming from below to rest in the bottom center screen, "FCSS instructor Julie Pehar published a children's book encouraging diversity." The text exits towards the left of the screen.]
- 0:13 [The image fades. Another image of Julie Pehar appears on the right side of the screen with text coming from above to rest in the left side of the screen, "The Pink Purse" is a whimsical story about a young girl named Kallie, her feathery handbag, and the lessons she learns about equality." The text exits towards the bottom of the screen.]
- 0:19 [The image fades. A picture of Dr. Gary Ellis, wearing a dark grey suit with a white dress shirt underneath, appears in the middle of the screen, with text coming from below to rest in the center screen, "Justice Studies Program Head Dr. Gary Ellis joined the ethical review board for a major European research study." The text exits towards the right of the screen.]
- 0:26 [The image and text fades. A picture of a hard drive with purple wires connected to it appears, with text coming from above to rest in the center screen, "The ASGARD Project brings together 17 European governments to examine big-data technology solutions to crime and terrorism." The text exits towards the bottom of the screen.]
- 0:33 [The image and text fades. A picture of Dr. Natalie Evans, wearing a red sweater, appears on the left side of the screen, with text coming from below to rest in the center screen, "Media Studies instructor Dr. Natalie Evans published a book about animal ethics." The text exits towards the left of the screen.]

- 0:39 [The image and text fades. A picture of three grey dolphins, one with its mouth open, in the water appear on the screen, with text coming from above to rest in the top center screen, “Dr. Evans’ book argues that different species of animals have different degrees of self-awareness and autonomy.” The text exits towards the left of the screen.]
- 0:45 [The image and text fades. A picture of Massimo Nardone, wearing a blue collared shirt appears on the right side of the screen, with text coming from below to the left side of the screen, “Kinesiology student Massimo Nardone presented research on blood flow, exercise and arterial stiffness.” The text exits towards the top of the screen.]
- 0:51 [The image and text fades. A picture of test tubes in different sizes with different colour liquids inside appear, with text coming from the right to rest in the center screen, “Nardone spent last summer working full-time in instructor Dr. Philip Millar’s lab, with support from a UofGH research grant.” The text exits towards the left of the screen.”]
- 0:58 [The image and text fades. A picture of three red rings attached with red, blue and yellow ribbons in the partly cloudy sky appear, with text coming from below to rest on the bottom center screen, “Alumna Lyssa Keil shared her accomplishments since graduating from the Early Childhood Studies program.” The text exits to the right of the screen.]
- 1:03 [The image and text fades. A picture of the world map on a white background appears, with North America and South America in blue transitioning to purple, Africa in purple transitioning to orange, Europe and Asia transitioning from orange to pink, and Australia in pink. This is followed by text coming from below to rest on the bottom center of the screen, “Keil is pursuing her master’s degree at Queen’s University and planning a trip to Tanzania to work with sick children.” The text exits towards the bottom of the screen.]
- 1:09 [The image and text fades. A picture of Dr. George Bragues, wearing a collared blue plaid shirt, appears on the left, with text coming from above to rest on the right side of the screen, “Dr. George Bragues published the book, Money, Markets, and Democracy: Politically Skewed Markets and How to Fix Them.” The text exits towards the bottom of the screen. Another text comes from the right of the screen and stops on the right side of the screen, “Dr. Bragues’ book discusses global financial markets and whether they’re doomed to booms and busts.” The text exits towards the top of the screen.]

- 1:22 [The image and text fades. A black and white picture of the Guelph Humber staircase appears, with chairs lined up in rows, in the background. The text comes from above and rests on the center screen, “The 6th Annual Psychology Conference brought droves of curious high-schoolers to campus to learn about the mind.” The text exits towards the bottom of the screen.]
- 1:28 [The image and text fades. A picture of a green and white brain appear, with text coming from the right to rest on the center screen, “Students heard presentations on sports psychology, neuroscience and forensic psychology while competing for one of five $1,000 awards.” The text exits towards the left of the screen.”]
- 1:35 [The image and text fades. A picture of the University of Guelph-Humber appears, with text coming from above to rest on the top center screen, “The University of Guelph-Humber had its best-ever year of case competition results.” The text exits towards the right of the screen. Another text comes from the right of the screen and stopping on the top center screen, “UofGH students finished in the Top 3 on 29 different occasions, including 16 first–place finishes.” The text fades.]
- 1:46 [The image and text fades, a logo on a white background appears with text “University of Guelph Humber”, with the text “News in Review” displayed to the right of the logo.]
- 1:51 [Fades to White]